

English IV Summer Reading

English IV summer reading selections were chosen to deepen your understanding and analysis of other course readings and important themes in British literature.

You will read ONE of the following novels. Keep in mind that shorter does not necessarily mean the novel is easier.

- The Girl with All the Gifts by M.R. Carey
- The Martian by Andy Weir
- The Bridge of San Luis Rey by Thornton Wilder

Step 1 - Annotate-As-You-Go

While you are reading, keep track of important information about characters, events, setting, literary devices, etc. Highlight or underline excerpts and make notes in (annotate) your text.

Step 2 – Reader’s Journal

While reading, compose a Reader’s Journal chronicling your thoughts about your novel choice. You will create your journal in Word document.

Journal entry frequency may vary, but the number of journal entries should be no fewer than ten (10), and they must be made each time you read in order to record reactions to the text while your thoughts are fresh.

Journal entries should reflect honest reactions to text, record relevant quotations from the book, and include some essential questions you have that that will facilitate discussion of the selected book and its themes. Below is a list of suggested sentence starters for responses, but you are not limited to them nor are you required to use each prompt. There are no right or wrong answers for these, so take some intellectual risks and be honest. Write about what you like or dislike, what confuses you, or anything that is unusual to you. Tell what you think something means. Look for examples of writing you really like or dislike and talk about them. Make predictions about what might happen later. Relate your own experiences that connect with plot, characters or setting. Just remember that these are not about plot summary but about what you think and feel as you read. Just give enough plot summary to make clear what you are writing about. The key is to engage the text.
